

WELCOME TO THE Nutwood Newsletter

at the heart of our community

The Woodman Inn was recently visited by All Sorts Car Club. They exceeded expectations by driving to the pub in their classic cars, which included... E-Type Jaguars, MGs, Jowett Jupiter and a Morris Minor.

We were also surprised by Tom Doig and his side kick, Robbie, showing off his classic 1920's Morris Cowley, Parthia.

Martin Evans was so taken with his experience at The Woodman Inn that he wrote a poem about it! Martin's wife, Jane, studied Chinese painting in the Far East, and painted the picture which is shown together with her husband's poem.

Martin and Jane presented the painting as a gift to The Woodman Inn, it was received by Martin Prescott on behalf of Nutwood Pubs. It now proudly hangs in the doorway to the pub.

If you're visiting The Pheasant...

The Great Chishill Windmill

NUTHAMPSTEAD AIRFIELD MUSEUM

Walk 'n Talk with Ivor Warne

In 1942 construction of an American bomber base started on the Scales Park estate. By the end of 1943 Lockheed P38 Lightning fighters had moved in, prior to B17 bombers arriving in April 1944.

It finally closed and reverted to the Scales Park estate in 1959 and was returned to agriculture.

But there is still evidence of the 'American Invasion' even today, if you know where to look.

If local history is of interest to you then you need to join Ivor on a walking tour of Nuthampstead.

8th June from 9am starting at 10am
£7.50 cash donation

This is a great opportunity to see what is left of this massive airfield, hear stories about the GIs that served here and how they contributed to the war effort.

The walk is limited to 20 people and will take about 2 hours. (We suggest you wear sensible shoes and dress to weather conditions)

This year marks not only the 80th anniversary of the D-Day landings but also a more local anniversary, the anniversary of the arrival of the 398th Bombardment Group (Heavy) in Nuthampstead, North Hertfordshire.

Families, friends and supporters of the squadrons who were based at Nuthampstead have returned year upon year to show their respect, but in May, the volunteers of the Nuthampstead Airfield Museum are hosting a special event to pay respect to the airmen, but also to raise much needed funds for the upkeep of the museum and preservation of the artifacts housed therein.

During World War II, the 398th Bomb Group operated B-17 Flying Fortresses from their base in Nuthampstead, Hertfordshire, conducting strategic bombing missions over Germany.

All those who wish to pay their respects are invited to attend an official service at the memorial at 11am on Saturday 25th of May. In the evening the museum is hosting a 1940's style dance with a live performance by Miss Jones Jazz Band. Tickets are limited, so book soon!
